Students,

Good morning. Welcome back. Hope you all had a nice break. Wanted to remind you that this is your Weekly Info that I bring to you each week. Please read through it, as some things will pertain to you, others will not. This is my way to communicate to you, so make sure you read this and are aware of all deadlines etc. These are also posted on our Departmental Website: https://appliedecon.oregonstate.edu/appliedecon/weekly-info

Add/Drop Deadline:
The last day to add/drop are your own will be on Sunday, January 9. Starting next Monday, January 10, if you need to add a class you will need to get an override from the Department offering the course. Starting with next Monday, January 10 a drop will actually be a withdrawal and tuition will be reduced.

MyDegrees Information:
Just a note to everyone on MyDegrees. I have updated everyone’s My Degrees. If you happen to see something that I might have missed, please let me know.

Please share this funding opportunity with students planning spring 2022 research/internships

E.R. Jackman Friends and Alumni continue to generously contribute to the Internship Support Program. This program provides money to undergraduate students in the College of Agricultural Sciences who are participating in volunteer or low-paying research/internships or research/internships that have expenses such as travel or special equipment. Please keep this opportunity in mind when advising students. This support should be especially useful for those students in programs which require an internship.

Attached is the 2021-2022 E. R. Jackman Friends and Alumni Internship Support Program application. Please share this application with all advisors and interested students. Applications for students doing research/internships during spring term 2022 are due January 28, 2022.

Please note: There is additional support from the Global Experiences Fund available to those applying for support of international internships/research experiences; preference for support from the Global Experiences Fund will be to highly ranked applicants who are seeking support for their first international experience. Student do not need to provide any additional information with their applications to be considered. We hope awareness of this support for international internships will encourage more international applications.

Please contact me at 737-5655 or Dale Weber at 737-2144 for more information. Thank you for your help advertising this opportunity to students.

Paul R. Dorres, Ed.M., Manager of Student Information, Scholarships, and Education Abroad
Job/Internship Posting Information:

When conducting your job or internship search it is important to be aware of any possible misrepresentations that may exist. Therefore, we encourage you to read the following information so that you avoid any unfortunate situations.

Oregon State University College of Agricultural Sciences (CAS) makes no representation, warranty or guarantee about the positions listed. CAS does not prescreen employment or internship opportunities that are submitted. By using the resources available, you are assuming full responsibility for your safety, security, wages, working conditions, fraudulent, or other aspects of any off-campus employment/internship opportunities that you discover while using CAS resources.

The National Young Farmers Coalition currently has a number of job openings and paid fellowship opportunities that I am excited to share with you and ask that you please help us spread the word with your networks!

Land Organizing Director
Young Farmers is hiring for a number of positions right now, including a Land Organizing Director. This person will be a central part of our land campaign work, bringing critical organizing expertise and capacity to our team. See a full description of the position and directions to apply here. The application period closes January 15th.

Other current job openings include: Field Director, FRSAN Coordinator, Grassroots Coordinator, Immigration Campaigns Manager, and Policy Campaigns Director.

Land Advocacy Fellowship
As part of our One Million Acres for the Future Campaign, Young Farmers is launching a two-year advocacy and leadership fellowship for current and aspiring young farmers and ranchers. Together, we will build momentum and shift power to advocate for policy change in the 2023 Farm Bill that elevates equitable and affordable land access. One hundred fellows will be selected to join this paid opportunity, which will include advocacy training, mentorship, a November 2022 fly-in to Washington, D.C., and a stipend of $3,000 per year. Read more and apply now through January 15th. For any questions about the Fellowship, or for social materials to support sharing, please contact my coworkers, Adrienne or Briana, cc’ed.

California Political Leadership Fellowship
This Fellowship recognizes that political power and leadership can flow from the contours of community strategies that are emerging to address local needs. The Fellowship provides a space to build that power and develop the political leadership necessary to ensure those who have been most marginalized from policy making processes, have agency in determining their future. Selected fellows will join a 10-month program wherein they will complete 120 hours of programming and independent work, a $7,500 honorarium for their time in the fellowship, and on-going coaching and 1:1 support. Read more and apply now through January 4th.

OSU ScholarDollars: Oregon State’s new online scholarship search and application system, ScholarDollars, is now accepting applications for more than $50 million in 2022-23 scholarship funds. OSU students may complete one application to be considered for more than 1,600 campus-based scholarship opportunities. Students are encouraged to submit their ScholarDollars applications between Nov. 1, 2021, and Feb. 1, 2022, to maximize the number of scholarships for which they will be considered. https://scholarships.oregonstate.edu/scholardollars.

That is all I have for now.

Have a good first week.

Tjodie