Students,

Hope everyone is doing okay with your classes, midterms, etc. Here are some announcements for this week and I will be sending out the Winter Term Registration info shortly.

Last day to change to S/U grading or withdraw from a course:
The last day to change to S/U grading or withdraw from a course is Friday, November 15. You can withdraw online, it would be just like dropping a class, however, it will say withdraw and the W goes on your transcript, this won't calculate into your GPA. For changing to S/U grading you will need my signature on a form. I have forms in my office. The forms get turned into the Registrar's Office.

COB Tutoring Information:
This is something new in College of Business (COB). Like Math and Chemistry, they just launched a COB Private Tutor Resources Page. It is set up the same way Math/Chem are (hands-off, no vetting approach). It is for COB taught classes only at this point (not Math or Econ, e.g.). The tutors/tutees do not have to be COB majors or minors, but they do need to be an OSU student (any level). There are some other resources on the site to help students find other help if they can't find a tutor.

Internship Presentations for Fall Term:
Here is the schedule for internship presentations coming up for the week of November 4. You are welcome to attend. The internship presentations will be in our conference room 200C Ballard Extension Hall.
