Students,

Good morning. Hope that you are enjoying your break so far. I received a few announcements and wanted to pass them along.

Southwest Land Stewardship Tour:
Please see attached flyer.

Women in Agriculture project - we need your help!
During the November meeting I mentioned and passed out some information regarding a women in agriculture project ODA is partnering on with the NASDA Foundation and Washington State Department of Agriculture around women in food and agriculture. Research has shown women entrepreneurs face significant challenges to funding, training and business support across sectors. To help bridge these gaps we are participating in a three-part project consisting of a survey, a competition and business accelerator program. The goal is offering a hand up so women-owned farm-based businesses in Oregon can succeed. And I am reaching out to ask for your assistance to help spread the word!

Survey (open now!)
To determine what women entrepreneurs in Oregon and Washington need the NASDA Foundation launched an online survey on December 2. The responses will inform the training and the development of a women’s business accelerator program due to launch in the fall/winter 2019. If you know a woman who owns a farm-based food business in Oregon, please share the survey link. It’s open through January 31, 2019. https://women-in-ag.questionpro.com/

2019 Women Farm to Food Business Competition (what I mentioned primarily at the meeting)
In an effort to recruit women entrepreneurs the NASDA Foundation is sponsoring a Women Farm to Food Business Competition. Women entrepreneurs from Oregon and Washington will compete for a total of $40,000 in start-up funds. If you know a woman looking for funds to grow her food or beverage business please share the link to the online application. The competition opens January 1, 2019. Finalists will attend the NASDA Winter Policy Conference February 26 and 27, 2019 in Arlington, Virginia. https://www.nasda.org/foundation/women-in-agriculture.

Women Farm to Food Accelerator Program (coming soon!)
Both the survey and the competition will help launch the NASDA Women Farm to Food Accelerator Program later next year. This is a 90-day program that will offer training, skill building and networking all tailored to the needs of women.

As some of you know, I have had the privilege to work to amplify women in agriculture nationally and internationally during my time at USDA and I am so proud to be a part of this project in Oregon! I hope you can help us spread the word to your neighbors and industry networks to get Oregon women involved. Obviously, we would also love to win the competition with Washington J

Thank you for all you do every day in support of all Oregon agriculture!

Job/Internship Posting Information:

USDA Internship Program Announced
https://content.govdelivery.com/accounts/USDAOC/bulletins/21fd882
(Washington, D.C., December 4, 2018) Today, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue announced the “OneUSDA Internship” opportunity for Summer 2019. As part of the Federal Pathways Program, the OneUSDA Internship will provide students a way to explore serving their country through a career in government while gaining work experience in agriculture, natural resources, rural development, and other career fields.

The OneUSDA Internship Program offers Federal opportunities to students currently enrolled in qualifying educational programs or institutions, with a comprehensive developmental program intended to provide students with experience in a dynamic work environment that will enhance their educational goals and shape their career choices. An internship with USDA will involve various components of on-the-job experience, mentorship, and training tailored to the student’s education, experience, and interests.

During 2018, USDA was proud to host more than 3,000 interns throughout the country, about half of which were through the Federal Pathways Program. In the Summer of 2019, USDA will hire Pathways Interns in hundreds of locations across every state in the country for the following occupational fields:
USDA is making sure the Summer 2019 OneUSDA internship job announcement is easier-than-ever for college students to find and apply for. After choosing the geographic region of preference and the career path that best matches with students’ area of study and professional aspirations at http://www.usda.gov/Internships, students simply follow the weblinks to https://www.usajobs.gov/ to set up an account, then follow the prompts to apply to the internship.

When applying, applicants will also have an opportunity to indicate their preferred area of interest and USDA Agency or office. USDA will start reviewing applications on December 9, and the application window will close on January 18, 2019.

Undergrad Research: URSA Apps Open Until Jan. 11.
It’s not too late to find a mentor for the URSA Engage Program! Applications are due on January 11, which leaves you plenty of time to communicate with a faculty mentor over email or on the phone even if you’re out of town during winter break.

1. Go to the URSA Engage website and read through the faculty mentor summaries.
2. Reach out to faculty of interest via email and set up a meeting or phone call to discuss applying to the program.
3. Once you find a mentor, have them sign the Faculty Mentor Approval Form, which can be found on our website and will need to be attached to your final application.
4. Submit the program application! Email pierszas@oregonstate.edu with any questions.
